Objective of this Code

This Code aims to provide a binding and optimum framework for corporate governance in public stock companies vis-à-vis their direction, organization and supervision, through a series of specific and defined policies, processes and procedures.

Scope of Application of the Code:

The provisions of this Code shall apply to all public joint stock companies (the “company”, “corporate”, “companies” or “corporates”) listed on the Muscat Securities Market.

First Principle: Purpose of Corporate Governance

The purpose of Corporate Governance is to set out processes by which corporates are controlled and directed to create efficient enterprises contributing to building a strong, transparent and competitive national economy. The aim of such a process is to mitigate any adverse impact on the national economy, the stakeholders and the local community arising from failure to comply with corporate governance best practices.

Explanatory Notes and Guiding Procedures

1. Corporate governance is the system by which the company is directed and controlled, through the following processes:
 - (a) Identifying and allocating rights and obligations among different parties in the corporate, such as the board of directors, management, employees, shareholders, related parties and others, as the case may be.
 - (b) Setting out required rules and procedures required for decision making with regard to company affairs.
 - (c) Setting out the objectives and strategies required to achieve the above objectives.
 - (d) Specifying the criteria for monitoring and evaluating the company's performance.

2. Main pillars of corporate governance are taken to be as follows:
 - (a) Transparency: means that directors and management shall exercise due diligence in providing information required by regulators, shareholders, investors and related parties in a timely and appropriate manner to enable such recipients to take decisions and, with the same token, discharge of their duties appropriately.
 - (b) Accountability: means that directors shall be cognizant that they are accountable for their decisions and actions before the shareholders and that they should subject themselves to assessment according to best practices.
 - (c) Fairness: means that all shareholders, employees and related parties are treated equally by the directors and the executive management without any partiality or concealed interests.
 - (d) Responsibility: means that the directors shall perform their duties honestly with integrity and faithfulness toward the economy, the community in general and the company in particular. They shall exercise prudence, due diligence and care in performing their duties placing the interests of the company before any personal interests and, with the same token, taking into account the company's social responsibility.

3. The General Management Framework (or standard operating procedures) of the company must provide for an appropriate environment and ways that allow shareholders to actively participate in the general meetings; and obtain the information which enables them to exercise their rights, answer their queries and participate in the election of appropriate directors.

Second Principle: Board of Directors' Formation, Roles and Responsibilities

Each company must be headed by an effective Board of Directors (the “BoD” or “board”) to lead the company, monitor its business and control its operations. The BoD shall be collectively responsible for the success of the company in achieving its long term objectives. The BoD shall work with the Executive Management, without interfering in their day-to-day duties, to achieve the company’s objectives. In all cases, the executive management shall be responsible before and accountable to the BoD.

Explanatory Notes and Guiding Procedures

- (1) The directors are severally and jointly liable before shareholders in achieving the company’s goals and objectives. They shall be primarily concerned with the company’s interests and give them precedence over other interests including the interests of the shareholders they represent.

The general meeting may remove any director or all directors if they fail in performing their duties and responsibilities.

- (2) The directors and chairperson of the board are prohibited from interfering in the daily routine and direct operational matters of the company.

- (3) Subject to the provisions of the Commercial Companies Law and its amendments, and the Rules and Conditions for Electing Directors of Public Joint Stock Companies and their Responsibilities, the company shall comply with the following when forming its BoD:

- (a) All directors shall be non-executive directors.
- (b) Percentage of independent directors to the total number of board members shall not be less than one third, with a minimum of two independent directors.
- (c) Directors, who have been elected for the first time or re-elected, must undergo some qualification in corporate governance and sustainability through training programmes at the company’s expense.

- (4) The opinion of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee shall be taken into consideration when electing directors to ensure that elected directors possess the following skills and abilities¹:

¹ Without prejudice to shareholders rights to elect board members as they deem appropriate.

- (a) Strategic insight; and ability to direct, encourage innovation and continuously drive the company to consolidate its vision.
 - (b) Required expertise in financial accounting and corporate finance.
 - (c) Understanding of management trends in general and the respective industry in particular.
 - (d) Ability to deal with crises, both short term and prolonged.
 - (e) Proper and relevant experience in the nature of the company's business.
 - (f) Commercial experience in global markets, if the company has international operations.
- (5) Persons wishing to nominate themselves or be nominated to the board membership should have the following attributes and professional competencies:
- (a) High ethical and integrity standards in their personal and professional conduct.
 - (b) Intelligence, prudence and the ability to take appropriate decisions.
 - (c) Capability to read and understand financial statements.
 - (d) Aptitude to contribute towards effective stewardship of the company.
 - (e) Capability to approach others assertively, responsibly and cooperatively.
- (6) In order to ensure the quality of directors' performance and the accomplishment of its objectives, the BoD shall, as minimum, carry out the following tasks:
- (a) Devise accountability measures vis-à-vis directors to ensure their attendance of meetings, effective participation and performance of their roles. Such measures shall state the means and methods for performance monitoring, compliance with the expected professional conduct, and consequences of failure to perform their duties.
 - (b) Determine the required skills needed in board membership. The BoD may delegate this task to the Nomination and Remuneration Committee (defined later in the Code), in order to recommend suitable candidates to the general meeting as potential nominees, providing that shareholders retain the full right, authority and freedom to select board members from amongst those nominated by the aforementioned committee or others.
 - (c) Review the above annually.
- (7) The board has to approve and make public clear policies and controls for providing directors with the information they need outside the routine and regular framework of BoD meetings. The BoD shall task the company secretary to monitor the implementation of these policies and controls.

- (8) The BoD has to include in its annual report to the general meeting, a statement with supporting justifications outlining the company's ability to continue its operations as set out in the General Management Framework of the company.
- (9) The board has to ensure efficiency and adequacy of the internal control systems in all the units or divisions of the company including financial management, and its related operations, obligations management, and risk management. The board has to emphasize the same in its report to the shareholders, taking into consideration that, under all circumstances, the board's responsibility for preparing accounts and financial statements and assuring their accuracy is not undermined by the external auditors' responsibility for preparing their reports.
- (10) The chairperson of the board shall, with the assistance of the company secretary, ensure adherence the following terms and conditions for the board's meetings:
- (a) The board shall hold at least four meetings per annum.
 - (b) The term between any two meetings shall not exceed four consecutive months.
 - (c) In case of regular meetings, the meeting agenda shall be sent to all directors at least seven (7) working days prior to the date of the meeting.
 - (d) In case of urgent or unforeseen meetings, the meeting agenda may be sent to directors less than seven (7) days prior to the date of the meeting, as the case may be.
- (11) In case of quarterly meetings dedicated to discuss quarterly results, the company shall comply with Annexure (1) of this Code as minimum information to be provided to directors.
- (12) The board may convene through video conferencing, providing such convening is kept to a maximum of two meetings per annum. Similarly, the board may accept the remote participation of any of its members in its meeting deliberations. The board shall set out the rules and controls for the use of modern telecommunication methods in the convening of its meetings and remote participation of directors.
- (13) Except for resolutions approving financial statements of the company, directors may adopt resolutions by circulation and proceed in executing the said resolutions, however, such resolutions must be listed for ratification in the agenda of the next board meeting². The board shall set out the rules, terms and conditions for adopting resolutions by circulation.

² The meeting that is directly subsequent to the adoption date of the said resolutions.

Third Principles: Board of Directors' Authority and Competences

Articles of association of the company, approved by the general meeting, shall set out clearly the authority and competences of the BoD. Such delineation of authority and competences shall be made accessible to the public, aim to serve the purpose and objectives of the company, reinforce its governance, and maximize its contribution to the national economy and local community.

Explanatory Notes and Guiding Procedures

- (1) The board shall, at minimum, perform the following tasks and competences:
 - (a) Identifying a strategic vision of the company based on its mission, purpose and objects, and set viable performance indicators within a reasonable time frame which can be measured objectively, updating them periodically.

 - (b) Evaluating and monitoring the adequacy of internal control systems and their efficiency.
 - (c) Creating policies for safeguarding the company's human, material and intellectual resources and assets.
- (4) Meetings of the committee are deemed to have quorum if the majority of independent directors of its membership are present.
- (5) The committee must elect in its first meeting its chairperson, provided that the chairperson is an independent director. The board may name the chairperson in the committee formation resolution. It is not permitted to simultaneously hold the chairpersonship of any two committees established by the board. Similarly, it is not permitted to combine the chairpersonship of the board and that of the audit committee.

- (6) The chairperson of the audit committee cannot and shall not be a member in any of other committees.
- (7) The audit committee shall submit to the board an annual plan through which it shall discharge its tasks and competences.
- (8) The audit committee, at minimum, shall enjoy the following competences:
 - (a) Consideration and review of the internal audit system, and consequently submitting an annual written report outlining its opinion and recommendations.
 - (b) Consideration of the internal audit reports and follow up remedial action with regard to the comments therein.
 - (c) Providing recommendations to the board of directors vis-à-vis the appointment and removal of external auditors as well as specifying their fees. The recommendation must bear in mind the independence of such auditors.
 - (d) Following up the work of the external auditors and approving any non-audit services which they are assigned during the audit process.
 - (e) Consideration of the audit plan in conjunction with the external auditor and comment thereon.
 - (f) Consideration and follow up of the comments of the external auditor on the financial statements.
 - (g) Consideration of quarterly and annual financial statement prior to their presentation to the board, providing opinion and recommendations.
 - (h) Consideration of the adopted accounting policy, providing opinion and recommendations thereon to the board.
 - (i) Ascertaining the adequacy and sufficiency of the internal control systems, either through examining the regular reports of internal and external auditors or appointment of external consultants.
 - (j) Overseeing the preparation of financial statements including but not limited to the following:
 1. Review annual and quarterly financial statements prior to publication.
 2. Review the reservations and qualifications of external auditors in the draft financial statements (if any).
 3. Discuss accounting principles in general, focusing on any changes in accounting policies and principles that had taken place and their impact on the financial position of the company.
 4. Ensure compliance with disclosure requirements prescribed by CMA.
 - (k) Serving as a communication channel between the board, external auditors and the internal auditor.
 - (l) Reviewing the details of all proposed RPTs, and providing appropriate recommendations to the board.

- (m) Devising a risk management plan, obtaining approval by the board and following up its implementation. The plan shall, at minimum, include the following:
 - 1. Key risks which the company is exposed to and their probability (risk appetite).
 - 2. Mechanisms for identification, measurement and monitoring of these risks.
 - 3. Mechanisms for periodic examination, detection and reporting of risks (especially new risks).
